Known as Canada's largest women's apparel specialty chain, Reitmans has paired up with respected Canadian designer, Marie Saint Pierre, to bring you an affordable and vibrant capsule collection, perfect for any modern day woman.

Their goal, to bring a collection of spring dresses that would feel fresh yet daring all while remaining accessible to women of all shapes and sizes. Taking nods from many of the spring trends this season, Marie Saint Pierre mixes colour blocking, neutrals, mesh and diagonal ruffles among other techniques to bring you the latest and trendiest fashions at the affordable Reitman's price.

We live in a hectic go-go-go world and not everyone has time to pop into specialty boutiques and browse collections and shop. Reitman's has thought this through and wants to make shopping easier. Dresses range from $85 to $120 and can be found both instore and online at reitmans.com.
