SAFE IN THE SUN • WHERE TO FIND SPF IN THE BEAUTY AISLE

The newest texture from expert sun range Capital Soleil is Bare Skin Feel, a dry oil finish lotion in sheer SPF 60 that contains their patented photo-stable filtering Mexoryl XL-SX; $29.95 at drugstores and pharmacies across Canada (vichy.ca)

Lise Watier's Sun Smart Universal UV Shield SPF 30 for the face is oil- and paraben-free and comes in a tone-enhancing tint or regular clear, $39 (lise-watier.ca)

SkinCeuticals Physical Fusion UV Defense SPF 50 is also chemical-filter free and offers water/sweat resistant broad spectrum UVA/UVB protection with natural physical filters, zinc oxide and titanium dioxide, plus pigments to boost natural skin tone, $39 (skinceuticals.com/canada)

L'Oréal Paris joins the B.B. (beauty benefit) Cream invasion this month by launching one in their Youth Code skin care regime, with the added benefit of SPF15, $23.99 at drugstores and mass retailers across Canada (lorealparis.ca)

Dermalogica's SUN Super Sensitive Shield SPF 30 is good for sensitive skin and has been reformulated to last longer and diffuse antioxidant vitamins C and E only when exposed to sun, $64 at select skin care centres, salons and spas (dermalogica.ca)
