BOTTLED BEAUTIES

First spotted on Halston's runway in the swinging seventies, Elsa Peretti's bottle pendants make their return in 2011 as part of Tiffany & Co.'s summer collection.

And it's perfect timing, too, as this season sees a throwback to the same sexy styles of dress once sported by the likes of Jerry Hall. Offered in sterling silver and 18-karat gold, the pendants were inspired by Peretti's visits to Portofino, Italy during the 1960s, when she saw women walking with cut flowers and decided to create a bottle that could keep the blooms alive. Che bellezza. — MAGGIE WRABEL
