

#DearCanada Zara has launched it's online store

Posted On March 6th, 2013 by Krystle De Sousa

#DearCanada, get your plastic ready! That feeling of disappointment when you find the perfect outfit online, and then realize that shipping to Canada isn't an option, is over. Fashion chain Zara is launching its online store on March 6th, selling the full range of women's, men's, and children's clothing available in stores. Get your shop on from the comfort of your bedroom, and avoid the pains of elbowing your way to that perfect shirt in the zoo.

What if it doesn't fit just right? The return and exchange policy caters to your needs, with the option of easily returning them at any Zara store, or having the items picked up right from your home.

Get just as excited as we are about this launch. Your closet will never look more chic!
<http://www.zara.com/>

