

#DearCanada – Zara.com Launches in Canada Tomorrow

Zara launches their online store for Canadian customers (finally) tomorrow!!!

I was given the chance to get a sneak peek at the site last week and for someone who loves Zara but isn't a fan of the mayhem (read: lines) that usually accompany the shopping experience, I was happily surprised at how much fun I had choosing a few things while lying on the couch trying to ignore my Mr's favorite show, The Walking Dead. (I know it's all the rage but the Zombies..... I just can't)

I snagged these mid-heel Court Shoes and a leather lined t-shirt.

My order came in two days and with no shipping fees (on standard delivery if you spend over $50) and no DUTY (hallelujah) I would so do it again.

Head over tomorrow and experience the magic for yourselves. HERE

Now, Zara, all we need is access to that fantastic Zara Home collection! PUHLEEEEEASE!!!!

xxo,

Coco
