ZARA

Well this could very well be the the reason I go into credit card debt!

Canadians can now shop online for chic and trendy pieces courtesy of Zara.com which launched March 6th. No more paying crazy shipping fees and waiting for what seems like forever for packages to arrive!

The site features a large selection of womens, mens and yes even kids clothing, shoes and accessories that can all be accessed while browsing in your pj's ;)

I got the opportunity to be one of the first to test out the new online site and I have to tell you making my purchase was hard for no other reason than I simply could not decide what I wanted. In the end I chose practical pieces that I knew would be comfortable, timeless and get a lot of use.

So what did I choose?

I chose this stylish black coat which features a super cool high neck design ($139) because I needed a new winter/fall/spring jacket badly and this style is right up my alley.

Of course I couldn't NOT purchase a little something for my little something :)

This striped t-shirt has a tiny bow accent and with summer coming I wanted something baby girl would be comfortable yet stylish in. For a cool $9.90 I didn't even think twice.

I placed my order on a Thursday and my package arrived at my door Monday afternoon. Now that is a super fast delivery time, 2 business days wow!

Overall I was super impressed with the user friendliness of the site, the selection, the fast delivery time and the high quality that stays consistent with its stores.

If you love shopping at Zara in the malls, think about how awesome it is in your pj's, sipping a green tea and without the line ups!!

Check out Zara Online, now in Canada!
