

Style Swellness: Zara launches online shopping

The day is herrrrrrrrrr! Zara launches their Canadian e-commerce site today, whee!

I'm not typically an online shopper when it comes to clothes (I really like to see how pieces fit on me and to touch the fabrics) but having received an invite to shop Zara.com pre-launch, and being pretty familiar with how Zara's clothing fits—I have a feeling I'll be shopping online much more often now. Plus, there's a new app, too, so shopping on your smartphone or tablet is even more streamlined.

Standard delivery is free for orders $50+ (or you can pick up your order in store for free delivery, too). Same return policy as shopping in person, that is 30 days for returns or exchanges. And yes, you can return or exchange items bought online in store (I personally much prefer that over mailing back items).

Lucky me, I was invited to shop the new site and my order should arrive today. I'll anxiously be awaiting the courier! I'll post my buys on Instagram (You can find me there @healthandswellness).
