In case you haven't heard Zara Canada launched their online store yesterday! When I was trying to decide what to order from the site, I was drawn to this fun lip print. You know me, I love a good print! It will be getting a lot of wear in my closet, that is for sure! You know what else was awesome? It took two days to get here & it was free shipping (for orders over $50)! I don't do a lot of shopping online but this experience is making me love it! Shhh...don't tell the hubby!

Happy almost friday friends! I hope you are having a lovely week!
