zara ships to Canada

Alright, fellow Canadians! The wait is over. Starting today we can shop Zara online because they now ship to Canada. I'm sure you already know this. I'm sure some of us you have been counting down since the moment you heard. I shop at Zara quite often and I admit I'm a little worried about how convenient this is going to be.

Now stop reading this and go look at all the amazing pieces on the site. I had a chance to take a sneak peek before it launched and it was just all too lovely. The ordering process is easy and shipping is free for standard orders over $50 so go wild. (Let me what you buy)
