

Our Toronto Life

not-so-secret diary of the adventures of jucy

My Wish List for Zara Canada Online

Posted: March 6, 2013 | Author: Our Toronto Life | Filed under: Girl Stuff | Tags: #DearCanada, My favourite store in Toronto, Zara Canada Online Shopping, Zara online shopping | Leave a comment »

L-R, T-B: Shift Dress ($99.90), Kimono Style Blazer ($79.90), Dress with White Stripe ($79.90), Dress with Faux Leather Pockets ($79.90), Dress with Cape Sleeve ($79.90), Double Breasted Blazer ($139), Coat with Large Pockets ($119), Boho Chic Cardigan ($79.90), and Combined Faux Leather Coat ($119)

My favourite store is online! Zara Canada has made its way into the e-commerce, finally. This is good and bad for me.

GOOD Look at all the nice things that put on my wish list. I like picking out jackets, blazers and dresses from Zara because they can AMP up your outfit for work or going out on a Friday night. I mean, you can wear it a bunch of times with different pieces.

My heart is all aflutter with the blacks, whites, solid brights, leather details, and fantastic shapes in the current collection. I love online "window shopping" and sometimes that turns into some nice additions to my wardrobe. It's not like I work downtown where I can easily go to a Zara on my lunch break to just scope it out. Best part? If you need to make a return, you can do it at a Zara store – easy!

BAD My wallet will suffer a tiny, tiny heart attack.

What's on your wish list?