I'm keeping it simple today with my new favorite Zara sweater! I love this sweater for so many reasons one being it's EXTREMELY comfortable and also the angular hem on the bottom of the sweater! Who knew cutting a shirt on a diagonal could do so much for me. There's something about this sweater that takes me right to summer! Maybe it's the netting look of the stitching or maybe it's the open boat neck I'm not entirely sure. The simplicity of this sweater, and it's stark white color makes the perfect canvas for oodles of accessories. I can't wait to wear this sweater over and over again!
