Zara launches Canadian online store

Written By: StyleNotes on March 6, 2013

Zara has launched their Canadian online shop. The uber popular Spanish clothing and accessories retailer launched their online platform today, selling the full range of women's, men's and children's clothing that can also be found in-store.

Canadian fashion lovers will notice that fast fashion garments are priced identically online and in-store and there are three options for delivery: Pick-up in store, standard and express. Shoppers opting for standard delivery will receive their orders (over $50 CAD) in 3-6 working days for free ($4.95 CAD for orders under $50). The express delivery option offers delivery in 2-3 working days for a flat rate of $9.95 CAD.

Zara's online shop's exchange and return policy is identical to that offered in-store: during a 30-day period and free of charge. Plus, unwanted items can be picked up at home or returned to any Zara store in Canada.

Happy shopping!
